2. NIVELL C1. COMPRESIÓ LECTORA
(READING COMPREHENSION)

Part 1. GAPPED TEXT. You are going to read an extract from a novel by Paul Auster. Nine paragraphs have been removed from the extract. From the paragraphs A-I, which are in your task booklet, choose the one which fits each gap (1-8). The exercise begins with an example: (0) which corresponds to paragraph D. Write your answers on the ANSWER SHEET in your task booklet.

Overture

I had been collecting stories for years and as I had spent the bulk of my working life in the business of death, I had probably heard too many grim stories to stop myself from thinking about them when my spirits were low.

0. E. All the people I had visited over the years, all the policies I had sold, and the dread and desperation I'd been made privy to while talking to my clients.

Eventually, I added another box to my collection. I labelled it "Cruel Destinies," and the first story I put in there was about a man named Jonas Weinberg. I had sold him a million-dollar universal life policy in 1976, an extremely large sum for the time.

We met in his apartment on Central Park West, and once I had talked him through the pros and cons of the various policies available to him, he began to reminisce about his past. He had been born in Berlin in 1916, he told me, and after his father had been killed in the trenches of World War One, he had been raised by his actress mother; the only child of a fiercely independent and sometimes obstreperous woman who had never shown the slightest inclination to remarry.

2.

He was seventeen when Hitler took control of the government, and within months his mother was making preparations to get him out of Germany. Relatives of his father's lived in New York, and they agreed to take him in.

3.

Her family had been Germans for hundreds of years, she told her son, and she'd be damned if she allowed some two-bit tyrant to chase her into exile. Come hell or high water, she was determined to stick it out.

4.

This text has 530 words.

A. He left in the spring of 1934, but his mother, who had already proved her alertness to the impending dangers for non-Aryans of the Third Reich, stubbornly rejected the opportunity to leave herself.

B. In contrast to the headstrong Frau Weinberg, the young Jonas was a quiet, bookish boy who excelled at his studies and dreamed of becoming a scientist or a doctor.

C. By some miracle, she did. Dr. Weinberg offered few details (it's possible he never learned the full story himself), but his mother was apparently helped by a group of Gentile friends at various critical junctures, and by 1938 or 1939 she had managed to obtain a set of false identity papers.

D. Because of his profession, Dr. Weinberg had a keen sense of the frailty of human existence, of how little it takes to remove our names from the book of the living.

Number of questions included in the exam: 8

PART 2. MULTIPLE CHOICE. You are going to read a text about a journey. Questions 1 – 8, which are in your task booklet, choose the answer (A, B, C or D) which you think fits best according to the text. The exercise begins with an example (0). Write your answers on the ANSWER SHEET in your task booklet.

The Trip to McCarthy

McCarthy is a couple of hundred miles east of Anchorage, on the way to the border with the Yukon territory of Canada. It is surrounded by one of the largest areas of wilderness in the world, where four of the great mountain ranges of North America collide. Nine of the highest peaks in the USA are there, surrounded by enormous glaciers, rivers and canyons, and teeming with seriously wild wildlife. McCarthy, old by Alaskan standards, dates from the first decade of the twentieth century, when it developed as a social hub for the copper mines at Kennicott, five miles away. When the mines closed it went into decline, and for a while became a ghost town. The current year-round population, depending on which source you consult, is somewhere between fourteen and twenty. There seems a good chance I'll be able to meet them all, if only I can get there.

Unlike the other places I have been visiting, McCarthy has no known Irish connection.

Something about it, though, is calling out. Hidden at the end of one of the loneliest roads on earth, the town seems the right place to end a journey that has been driven as much by instinct as by design, and which has paid me back with many happy accidents. So I'm going there because we share a name; and because, like most people, I've always fancied going to Alaska, because it's big, scary and far away. But as well as all this, I also have a hunch. I didn't have it when I first set out, but now I want to pursue it all the way to the end of the road.

0. This article is taken from a ...
 - a) report on flying in hazardous conditions.
 - b) book about a very long journey.
 - c) natural history book.
 - d) book about living in Alaska.

1. In the area around McCarthy you would NOT be surprised to find...
 - a) that the wild animals had retreated to the highest mountain peaks.
 - b) a few examples of dangerous wild animals.
 - c) that a lot of animals had been hunted to extinction.
 - d) a lot of dangerous wild animals.

2. Around a hundred years ago McCarthy was...
 - a) a small mining town located at a distance from the rest of the mining community.
 - b) an important centre for the mining community.
 - c) scarcely populated.
 - d) inhabited mainly by young people.

3. The reason the writer wants to visit McCarthy is because ...
 - a) he and the town share the same history and a name.
 - b) he wants to visit a huge, frightening place where his ancestors lived.
 - c) he has a feeling that he is going to find something there.
 - d) the town is the next to last stop of a long journey.

5. NIVELL C1. EXPRESSIÓ ORAL (SPEAKING TEST)

The oral test includes 14 different topics. An example follows on page 8.

1 Pair Work: Discussion. Time: 3 minutes approx.

In pairs, look at the pictures about different aspects of medicine. Do you think alternative medicine is compatible with modern medicine? Do you think the national health service will still exist in 15 years' time? Would you donate your organs if you knew you were going to die? Is medical service on the internet to be trusted?

2 CANDIDATE A: Talk about the pictures for approximately ONE minute without prompting.

- Are people too concerned with physical appearance? Is plastic surgery a solution in all cases?
- Is medical ethics important nowadays? To what extent is money more important than health?
- If you had the option of freezing your body in hopes that science would some day be able to bring you back to life, would you do it?
